This paper discusses network management capabilities for a specific BOC data service, SMDS, and the role that a BOC network providing this service can play in the overall management strategy of a subscriber owned and operated data network. The paper describes user needs for managing the computing equipment and communications services that comprise a data network, and suggests several ways in which a BOC network could offer network management features that complement and are synergistic with the ...

The OSI Fault Management system (OSIFaM) is an evolving knowledge-based system for fault management of Open System Interconnection (OSI) networks. Our goal is to develop a knowledge-based tool that will reduce the expertise needed to recognize, diagnose and correct faults in OSI networks. For our first implementation, we are focusing on MAP 3.0 networks. This paper provides an overview of fault management in general, a brief survey of other fault management developments, the characteristics ...

Networks have become a key component of the corporate infrastructure. Managing the networks, which often carry a diverse set of information (e.g. voice, data, video) over a diverse set of media (e.g. wire, cable, RF) with a mixture of owned and leased transmission assets that are often geographically distributed and run a diverse set of protocols, is a major challenge. One of the most promising techniques applies expert system approaches to the management of networks. Co ...

Major computer vendors have concentrated on enhancing diagnostic and maintainability aspects of their computer systems to permit a prompt repair interval with a minimal amount of technical support interaction. This paper proposes an architectural description for an automated diagnostic and recovery expert system. The authors obtained sufficient domain knowledge of both the AT&T 3B4000 Computer and the AT&T technical support organization and chose the 3B4000 Computer as a vehicle for ...
